Among the Contractors. The action of the bricklayers in talking of organizing a boycott against all the building material manufacturers who furnish contractors with material to be put into build ings by "scab" men will probably lead to the organization on the part of the contractors, brick and other material manufacturers of a vigorous boycott on the bricklayers' union and its members. While the contractors see many of their old employes who are members of the union standing out and entering this boycott against them and the manufacturers of the material, and would be glad to give them work if they could, they can not but feel that some organized plan must be taken on their part to check-mute any such organized beycott on the part of the union men. The plan of holding a meeting to perfect a builders' exchange for the purchase of all kinds of building ma-terial was talked of at the exchange rooms resterday.

The members of the exchange are received. ing applications from non-union men every day for positions at brick work, and the con-tractors say they have as many men now as Seven men arrived yesterday for Dan Hamshire and are now at work. Four of them came from Des Moines, two from Kansas City, and one from Marshalltown. One contractor mailed tickets yesterday for four work. TIZARD AT THE BAT.

The Male Member of the Family Takes an Inning.

Mr. Richard Tizard, whose name has within the past few weeks become so familiar to the Omahan, writes the BEE a letter, in which he "briefly explains his unfortunate family affairs." Mr. Tizard had prior to the recent disturbance at the orphan asylum cherished the hope that the worst was past, but has recently discovered, like the bard of Avon, that "Hell bath no fury like a woman scorned," and at this time begins to believe that life is but a narrow vale between the high peaks of two eternities, and that the wayfarer's lot is simply to be bumped on one side and then the other until his mortal frame is one mass of bruises and his spiritual part sorely wounded. In his article he relates that since his marriage with Mrs. T. his existence has been one of mental and physical anguish; that Mrs. T.'s conduct was such that seven years ago he went out of business to try and redeem her from ruin and degradation. She rose up and compelled him to sleep on the hay in his barn and on the floor with the door locked. She has, so Mr. Tizard says, scratched him, clawed him and chawed him, and whaled him over the head with a potato-masher, from the effects of which he did not recover in a month. And at one time she pointed a revolver at him, and but for his getting away from her as he did, a for his getting away from her as he did, a neat little monument would now be standing on Prospect Hill where no stone now stands.

Mr. Tizard then describes the disturbance at the orphan asymm, and says Mrs Tizard is a prevaricator, an equivocator and a manipulator of truth, as he did not kick her, and did not abuse her. He also relates that instead of 500 people, there were not fifty present. The injured husband closes his tale of woe by stating that he had intended to leave the city, but that he has changed his mind, and will remain here until death relieves him

Mrs. Adolph Kruse Surrenders Her Daughterpto a Stranger.

Mrs. Adolph F. Kruse, who resides at the corner of Thirteenth and California streets, has been guilty, it seems, of a very idiotic and reprehensible piece of business. Wednesday forenoon, while Mr. Kruse was at his work in Dietz's lumber yard a man, giving the name of John Hugh, called at his house and told his wife that he was from Akron, O.; that he was wealthy and had a wife, but no children, and that they were very desirous of adopting a little girl. He had seen Mrs. Kruse's oldest daughter, May, a handsome, rosy-cheeked lass of thirteen, and was much impressed with her, and at once stated to the unsuspecting mother that he stated to the unsuspecting mother that he would take her, adopt her, and give her all the advantages of his wealth and luxuriant home. The woman, of course, was very leath to part with her bright-eyed daughter, but realizing what an opportunity this was, as she innocently thought, for little May to be she innocently thought, for little May to be reared and I brought up under the influences of culture and refinement, finally consented, and turned the girl over to the man, who took her away with him. Of course, when Mr. Kruse returned from his work in the evening, he was shocked beyond measure at evening, he was shocked beyond measure at what his wife had done, and almost frantic he left the house to hunt up Hugh and his innocent child. The first step was to acquaint the police with the status of things, and then a thorough search was instigated throughout the city. But all the efforts proved futile, not a trace of the man and child could be found anywhere. The result of the husband's investigations and his any of the husband's investigations and his apprehensions of the evil that was overshadowing their cldest born threw Mrs. Kruse into hysterics and at present she is prostrate and in a critical way indeed. However, there is no absolute evidence that the man is not all he represented. The au-thorities at Alcron have been communicated with and the hopes of the little family all de-pend upon the response they will probably receive from that source. It looks, however, as if the designs of Hugh were wicked and deprayed.

The management of the Union Pa-cific—"The Overland Route," made a change in the running time of its local trains Sunday, April 29th, that will be hailed with delight by the residents of "The Omaha and Republican Valley." This change is made in conjunction with the St. Joseph and Grand Island branch, making the leaving time of No. at Council Bluffs at 8:40 a. m. and Omaha 9:00 a.m. Arriving at Valley at 10:25 a.m.; it connects with the train arriving at Valparaiso at 11:56 a. m., and at Stromberg at 2:50 p. m. Here it connects with the St. Joseph and Grand Island train, via McCool Junction and Fairfield, arriving at Alma at 10:00 p. m. The train running opposite leaves Alma daily at 5:30 a. m., arriving at Stromsburg at 12:00 p. m., Valparaiso 2:30 p. m. and Valley 4:15 p. m., connecting with No. 8 arriving in Omaha at 5:50 p. m. and Council Bluffs at 6:10 p. m., connecting with eastern trains. A change in the running of trains between Lincoln and Valparaiso. enables passengers leaving Alma in the morning to reach Lincoln at 3:40 p. m. Leaving Lincoln at 11:35 a. m. they connect at Valparaiso with the Alma train, arriving there at 10:00 p. m. Good time and through chair car ac-ommodations, makes this the most deirable line running into this portion of Nebraska. Passengers between Alma and Lincoln will be obliged to make only one change and that at Valparaiso,

GENERAL BROOKE IN TOWN. Arrival of the New Commander of the Platte. Colonel Terreit, Major Hughes and Adjutant General Breck waited patiently for nearly two hours at the Webster street depot yesterday morning for the belated train that brought to the city Brigadier General Brooke, the successor of Major General Crook in the command of the Department of the Platte. General Brooke came from St. Paul, having stopped over in that city for a short vaction and rest incidental to his long ourney from Fort Shaw, Montana, where he had been commander, and was accompanied by his wife and her sister. Mrs. Hill. The party was accorded a soldierly welcome, and were escorted to carriages and driven to the Paxton where a suite of rooms had been previously engaged for them. Soon after General Crook called for them. Soon after General Crook called upon General Brooke in his apartments, congratulating him upon his promotion and wished him every success possible. General Brooke has a grand record, and, unlike his predecessor, is not a graduate of West Point. He entered the volunteer service as captain of Peunsylvania volunteers in April, 1861, colonel November, 1861, and brigadier general of volunteers May, 1864. "THE OVERLAND ROUTE," has gotten out a fly bill designed to call attention to the summer resorts along the line of this railway. It is a good bill and tourists, pleasure seekers, sportsmen and fishermen should apply at once to J. S. Tebbets, general passenger and ticket agent, Omaha, Neb., for information in regard to the points of interest along the line before deciding where they will spend the summer season or vacation holidays.

MARVE BEARDSLEY. Tells About His Relations With Cody's Wild West.

Marve Beardsley, champion long distance rider of the world, and late pony express rider of Buffalo Bill's Wild West, is in the city. He feels very sore over the letter recently published in the Herald over the signature of John Kane, a former bartender in this city, but now with Buffalo Bill, and denounces the same as a conglomeration of malicious falsehoods and misrepresentations, and says that the whole matter arose out of his severing his connection with the Wild West and embarking into the show business for himself. He also states that he sent for Kane to come to Europe, and supported him all summer, and that this is the return he gets for his kindness and generosity.

On and after April 29th the day coaches on the Union Pacific's No. 3, known as the "Overland Flyer," will be taken off, to better enable it to make time. This will add largely to the popularity that has already been gained by this fast train. After that date it will carry only passengers holding first class tickets, to points where the makes regular stops, between Council Bluffs and Ogden. Such passengers must purchase tickets for seats or berths in Pallman sleepers, before entering

The Language Most Spoken.

It is estimated by Prof. Kirchoff, of Halle, that the language most spoken on the globe, for the last thousand years at least, is Chinese, for it is without doubt the only one which is talked by over 400,000,000 of the human race. The next language most in use, but at a great distance behind Chinese, is Hindustani, spoken by over 100,000,000. Then follow English (spoken by about 100,000,000), Russin (70,000,000), German over 57,000,000), and Spanish (over

SURE CURE THE BACKWARD SEASON

Is having a depressing effect on the woolen and clothing market. Eastern manufacturers find themselves overstocked with fine clothing, and we are now offered stocks of goods from the very best houses in the country, at prices much lower than we could manufacture them ourselves. Our buyer is not sleeping, and the last few shipments we received from him have compelled us to mark down considerable many lots that are left from our first spring purchase. We offer this week in Men's suits:

250 good blue flannel sack suits, the color warranted indigo blue, well trimmed and made at $5.75. The usual retail price of this suit is not less than $8.50.

300 blue flannel suits, all wool and indigo blue, at $7.75. This is as firm a flannel as there is made in this country, and we guarantee it to be as good a suit in quality of cloth and make up as there is offered by any house for $12.

500 elegant Cheviot suits, made of fine imported cheviot, in elegant light colored patterns, for $10.50. We sold these suits only last week for $12.50. and we put them against any $15 suits in the market.

In mens' furnishings, we offer this week a special drive in elegant balbriggan shirts and drawers, finished seams and French neck at 35c each. This is the greatest bargain ever offered in this line, as no house would sell underwear like this at less than 75c a piece. Neckwear No such variety can be seen anywhere.

Our 15c silk scarfs in all the latest summer shades, you cannot get elsewhere under 50c. Another consignment of those elelegant light colored derbys, satin lined, at $1. We have them in two shades this time, and also have the same hat without lining for 90c. Everybody who buys one wonders how it can be done.
